

Nutanix Solution for Service Providers

Deliver profitable cloud services powered by Nutanix

According to Grand View Research, the global managed services market size was valued at $175B USD in 2018 and is expected to grow at a CAGR of 11.7% from 2019 to 2025. That is a massive opportunity for Service Providers. Plus, they need to create cost-effective, flexible, and scalable services that are value differentiated from public cloud. However, they face challenges such as:

- Lifecycle management complexity means more time spent managing and troubleshooting infrastructure
- Difficult to describe their value proposition and promote their service
- Decreasing margins with increasing platform costs and restrictive program requirements

Nutanix provides service providers with an industry leading, well-architected platform with simplicity, stability, and scalability to deliver anything-as-a-service (XaaS), from managed or hosted private clouds to hybrid clouds.

“Adoption of public (shared) cloud services continues to grow rapidly as enterprises, especially in professional services, telecommunications, and retail, continue to shift from traditional application software to software as a service (SaaS) and from traditional infrastructure to infrastructure as a service (IaaS) to empower customer experience and operational-led digital transformation (DX) initiatives.”

– Eileen Smith, IDC Program VP, Customer Insights & Analysis
